The Money Shot System

8) How to Turn The Money Shot System From a Side Hustle Into a Full-Fledged Serious Business

It's my advice to start buying and selling on your own to understand the process. To grow this into a more significant full-time business, you are merely going to need more space, more help for sourcing products to sell, and more time. The profit margin is there to support your business. You mustn't fall into the trap of paying too much for space. You want to be very creative in locating space for your selling transaction. I would advise you drive around your area and look for businesses that already have lots of space and that are already locked into a lease and see if you can sublet space from them on a month to month basis. DO NOT sign a 2 or 3 or 5-year lease. You don't want a long-term commitment until you know for sure this is your path. As you complete your transactions, you'll soon understand you can specialize in selling one item. For example, for close to one year, I was focusing on selling doors I was able to get for mostly free. I used the side of my home to store and sell the doors. At one time, I had over 80 doors on the side of my home.

It was a great business. You can do the same for appliances, windows, doors, dishwasher racks, or whatever you choose. To take this to the next level of doing this on your own part-time you'll need three things.

1. You'll need to have your list of drivers ready to go and pick up and deliver items you find for free or the items you can get for low dollars.
2. You will need a place to store these items.
3. You will need someone to help you part-time at least two hours per day.

You can pay them $15 to $20 per hour.

Their job will be consistently going onto eBay, Craigslist, Nextdoor, Offerup.com, and letgo.com looking for free items or items going for very little money.

They will be making meager offers to these sellers. Once you have a seller willing to either give away or sell, you or your driver go and take possession of the item.

Your part-time helper will photograph and list the item for sale on the same sights mentioned above.

So, it's pretty simple. To grow, you need more hours and more items to sell. You can build as fast or as slow as you want. Trust me when I say this. Time is On YOUR side. Some items will take time to sell. But if you keep them listed and in the market place, the right buyer will come along.

Now, get out there and make things happen. I believe in you more than you believe in yourself.

If you are still reading, you certainly know that this stuff works! But it's important to remember that it won't work by itself. YOU have to get it going.

And all it takes is your first sale. Read my ideas and stories. Go out into the field and see what you can find. Go for a drive around your neighborhood and look for items for free. Make something great happen for you and your family.
